DEDICATION

MISS POLLY FESSEY

This year's dedication goes to Miss Polly Fessey, the Director of the Middle School. The year 1972-73 is an especially important year for Miss Fessey as she watches the class of '73, which was the first eighth grade class, conclude its years at Harpeth Hall. At the end of this year, she will have seen the girls of five classes graduate from the Middle School, on all of whom she has made an impression. She has accomplished much in the way of preparing girls for their high school years by helping them develop good study habits, dependable qualities, and an interest in academics as well as in extra-curricular activities. She adds life to our campus as she organizes classes and activities for the lower grades and sees that they are carried out to their fullest extent. In addition, she is continually busy guiding the girls in their work with leadership groups such as the Middle School Council, and she is always willing to aid class and club officers when they need her. Most of all, Miss Fessey finds time to know each girl as an individual. Because we love her, the 1973 MILESTONES is dedicated to Miss Polly Fessey.

The members of the MILESTONES staff see this year as a culmination of the changes that Harpeth Hall has undergone recently. Some of these changes are the result of the students' desire to become more involved in community activities and even in international travel and learning while other changes stem from our interest in improving Harpeth Hall itself. Despite the changes, the old values remain; therefore, it is our feeling that this year has been a mixture of traditions and additions. We hope that this double aspect of Harpeth Hall is reflected in MILESTONES 1973.

The buildings of Harpeth Hall are not just empty frames; they are filled with activities ranging from just talking and having fun to hard work. The buildings are always filled and surrounded with a bustle—students hurrying to class, students trying to settle their uniform shipments, and students joking with each other. These activities, along with many others, give Harpeth Hall its unique atmosphere.

Miss McMurry

The traditions of Harpeth Hall were established long before its birth in September of 1951. They go back to the Ward-Belmont days at the turn of the century. But with new students come new ideas and questionings of the "old ways." In the perplexity of change, how can one retain the value of long-standing ideals and traditions and still move forward with the times?

It takes an individual of unique ability to do this. A person like Miss McMurry. A person who can recognize not only the positive aspects of change but also the negative ones. Someone who can adapt traditions from a half century ago and make them apply to 1973. During her nine years as Headmistress, Miss McMurry has never been content to be merely a figurehead behind a desk or podium. She is continually striving for the progress of Harpeth Hall—not for the sake of change, but for the sake of the students themselves.

MR. MINTON

Involvement is the word that best describes our Mr. Minton. As the new Dean of the Upper School, he concerns himself not only with the administration, but also directly with the students. The Student-Faculty Committee, of which he is a member, is an example of his concern for the girls as well as for the faculty. Winterim is one of the channels through which Mr. Minton attains a one-to-one relationship with students. Mr. Minton is also the sponsor of the Student-Council; loaded with fresh ideas, he has given it a new dimension. Because of his loyalty and involvement, Mr. Pete Minton has become one of the most popular figures at Harpeth Hall.

MISS PENNY

On the Harpeth Hall campus there is a very special person who performs the duties of college counselor, faculty advisor, and sponsor of MILESTONES. Her name is Miss Mountfort, but she is more commonly known to all students as Miss Penny. From the first day of school, a new student recognizes her as the witty, patient, original, and thoughtful person that she is. Her variety of interests, aided by her ability to understand other people's problems, enables her to be an active asset to the ever-changing school.

OUR FACULTY

Do we ever really appreciate our faculty at Harpeth Hall? As the year concludes, we realize that our faculty has great concern for us as individuals as well as students. With their special enthusiasm and their well-rounded academic backgrounds, they are making our high school years an excellent preparation for our years to come.

RITA AFS STUDENT

In September of 1972, many new faces appeared on the Harpeth Hall campus. Along with these faces were new personalities, new ideas, and new friends. Among the new faces was our A.F.S. student, Rita Props. As new faces became familiar faces, Rita became a vital part of the Class of 1973. She has given her class and her school a wonderful experience as they have grown to know and to love her. Rita has contributed her enthusiasm, her interest, and her talents to every aspect of Harpeth Hall. She has given new and different ideas to the Student Council of which she is an active member. She has travelled to other schools to lecture on behalf of A.F.S. and on her native country—Belgium. To Rita we owe many thanks for her friendship, her courage, and her willingness to learn; for without her, this year would not have been the same.

SENIOR CLASS

Being a senior meant being a leader, a girl underclassmen learned to respect and hoped to emulate. In the Senior House, our "home away from home," a place that was always filled with the aroma of popcorn and brownies, we reminisced about our first days at Harpeth Hall, how apprehensive, lonely, and especially how petrified we were of the seniors. It was strange to think, "we are now those seniors." Having lived through the plays and the slumber parties and the candy sales, each of us has arrived at a better understanding of ourselves and others. We have to love each other; by doing this, we can reach out and help one another.

JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior Class is a unified section of Harpeth Hall. We set as our goal for 1972-73 an attainment of spirit through working together. We decided to get involved actively as a class in a number of projects. The class wrote a play that demonstrated the intended achievement of spirit. Following the play, we participated in other activities. We held a breakfast for our fathers, and later during the year we had a combo for the Senior Class. Now at the close of the year we feel that we have attained our goal; now it is up to us to continue to be a unified group of girls—the Class of 1974.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Sophomore Class of '72-73 has displayed its enthusiasm throughout this year. Under the leadership of our capable officers and sponsor, the Sophomores have shown strength, spirit, and unity. To represent the class we elected several "Super Sophomores" and "Sophomore Sweethearts." We also showed our enthusiasm by winning the paper drive sponsored by the Student Council and by working on charity projects to help the community. When the Sophomores played the Freshmen in football, hockey, and basketball, our spirit was evident. All in all, it's been a great year for the Sophomore Class, who, through hard work and fun, have grown closer as a class.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Every girl who has ever been a Freshman at Harpeth Hall has known the bewildering sensation of entering a new place. In that chaotic cubby-hole room she wondered: "Will it always be like this?". The Class of '76 was no exception. Yet we were an exception, because every one of us is unique, and every year that passes will give new flavor to the ones to come. What has flavored the first passing year of the Class of '76? Well, if no one else remembers the talks we talked, the classes we took, the despair we felt, the impressions we made, the rehearsals for George Washington's birthday and the Freshman Skit—if no one else remembers, we will!

The motto of the Student Council for 1972-73 is "what you are, you are becoming." In September the Student Council realized that it was a group of twelve girls who represented their classes in the school government. However, as the year evolved, these girls discovered that they could form a better council by being directly involved with the students. Committees were developed; each committee has only one council member on it; the rest of the members are students. The Service Committee sponsored a paper drive, and the Publicity Committee organized office helpers. Club charters were developed by the Student Activity Committee. A "Sock Hop," a new event for H. H. girls, was a project of the Social Committee. With the involvement of more students, the Student Council has become a more representative body for Harpeth Hall girls.

STUDENT FACULTY COMMITTEE

The Student-Faculty Committee was founded to serve as a liaison among the students, the faculty, and the administration. This year the Committee has helped the generation gap between students and teachers at Harpeth Hall. A major concern of the Committee was the uniforms; another project of this committee was Duds Day, when students could be exempt from wearing their uniforms in return for doing a service project. The Student-Faculty Committee also supervised the care of the lunch room. The Student-Faculty Committee, through which students are able to voice their opinions on all areas of school life, is a valuable asset to Harpeth Hall.

It is an outstanding recognition to be in the Honor Society at Harpeth Hall. Each girl must have a B average in each major subject division and excellent citizenship. The group's main responsibility is to arrange the Wednesday morning chapel programs; however, the group also serves as an example of both citizenship and scholarship to the rest of the school.

Promptly at 2:45 on Friday afternoons, the bell rings, the ASR door slams, the food appears, the typewriter covers are lifted, and the MILESTONES staff is again hard at work. But actually, the work never stops as the MILESTONES representatives from each class continue to involve themselves in the task of capturing nine months' activities in a few pages of memories. From the first annual staff picnic in mid-summer until the distribution of the MILESTONES the following July, the staff is constantly trying to recognize students and faculty for individual achievements and to introduce new ideas and enthusiasm to the school itself. Each year working on the annual staff is a new and different experience. But that is what has made working on MILESTONES 1973 such a challenge and so much fun.

This year, with the aid of the new journalism class, the paper became more professional. Staff members selected stories and worked on assignments while improving their writing techniques. Writing headlines was a favorite task of the students, for during this time they spontaneously broke forth in singing and dancing, a necessity for transformation into a productive mood.

SPORTS

Sports are an important part of Harpeth Hall school life. This year for first time there were intramural sports which allowed more participation. In the fall students gathered at the hockey field to cheer their club teams. A spirit stick was awarded to the most spirited club. Then came football season. In the powder puff games the Seniors proved victorious, and the Freshmen and Sophomores tied. Another first this year was the varsity basketball team which played in the TSSAA, ending the season with a 6-8 record. These girls will play next year as Battle Ground Academy's sister school. The volleyball team played in the National Tournament and hosted Harpeth Hall's own invitational tournament. Track, softball, archery, table tennis, badminton, and bowling were popular intramurals, and the varsity tennis team was as strong as ever.

SENIOR PLAY

This year Harpeth Hall was invaded by the Beasties, and there was Double Trouble! We're gonna pull out their inner selves! Beep! Bonk! . . . I bet he gave it to you! . . . Bring me something yummy . . . Rats! . . . You've messed up my entire plan! . . . I couldn't have possibly made over a 28 . . . Speaking of heads . . . Why they even had their own cemetery plots! . . . You're walking a mighty fine line, Violet Jane . . . Right on, Abe Baby! . . . I bet you think we're a bunch of old fogies . . . Are you sick? . . . Not too close for comfort . . . The better you look . . . You're two points from a coronary . . . I'm gonna raise a little heck! . . . I know the perfect comeback! . . . Blunt and crude and rude . . . It may be wise to compromise . . . On to the Middle School! . . . All kinds of people should reach out.

JUNIOR PLAY

For anyone who saw the Junior Play the word "spirit" has many connotations. It all started when the Juniors said, "We don't have spirit? YOU tell us why!" The Juniors then proceeded to search for spirit, and they wrote "Dear Blabby." From then on, it was one series of events after another "The Sensuous Spirit" "Did some one call?" . . . "We'd like to rent a spirit" . . . "The Glob" . . . "Everybody needs a drink or two—or three!" . . . "H2SO4 in the H2O pistols!?" After the Juniors rented a spirit, they soon realized that they did not need a false spirit—they had their own.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

One of the most remarkable anachronisms of Harpeth Hall remains the George Washington Celebration, which is presented each year by the Freshman class. Their parents, relatives, friends, and fellow students gathered together this year to watch and participate in this, George's 241st birthday. This freshman class communicated their own "Spirit of '76" to the audience—as well as to George and Martha—through their new enthusiasm for an old tradition. It is considered an honor by the Juniors to be chosen to represent George and Martha Washington, for the two chosen girls stand for the ideals at Harpeth Hall that our first President and his First Lady still symbolize to all Americans. MILESTONES '73 salutes the Freshman class, Lee Ann Thornton, and Beth Davis, who executed their roles with dignity and feeling.

GEORGE AND MARTHA WASHINGTON

JUNIOR-SENIOR DAY

After thirty weeks of Junior Jitters and Senior Slump, the two oldest, most mature (?) classes of Harpeth Hall broke loose and reverted to their true selves on Junior-Senior Day. The Juniors, adorned with snips, snails, and puppy-dog tails, were the terrors of the sugary and spicy Seniors, and regular school routines were well nigh forgotten. Although no water pistols were allowed, there were the usual sports competitions after school, topped by a delicious picnic. It was nice to have one day when everyone could relax and play, but stop to think: would you believe that some of our frilly little Seniors can vote?!?

There are many events at Harpeth Hall which have become school traditions, but there are also events and activities which are of recent origins. Both the traditions and the additions make equal contributions to school life and are of equal importance. These two aspects of Harpeth Hall are so inter-related that they act as one, having a greatly-felt influence on the school routine. Times are changing; and the school is changing. But at Harpeth Hall it is change which is being brought about thoughtfully and slowly, allowing the new to intertwine with the old.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

The Harpeth Hall Middle School is an addition that has become a tradition. Five years ago this building was included as a part of the school campus; now, five classes have graduated from the Middle School. Each girl who has been through the seventh and eighth grades at Harpeth Hall knows the unity found in the classes and knows the fun had during school hours. The students manage to enjoy themselves while learning; various academic clubs exist and meet during the morning activity period; and members of these clubs participate in projects which increase understanding in the related subject. At the same time the students enjoy themselves while working with each other. In addition, school life includes interclass sports, as well as games played during lunch just for fun. Learning is not limited to academics; a wide variety of activities enables each girl to become involved in school life.

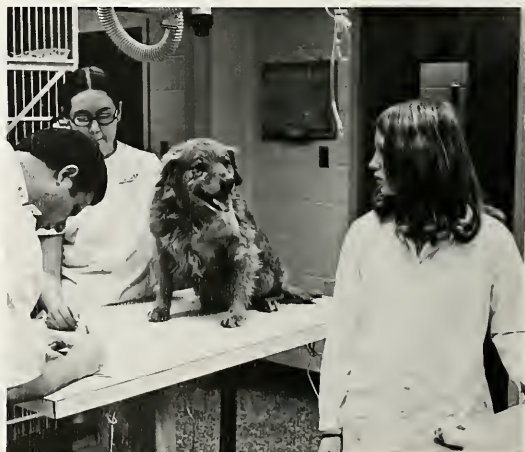

WINTERIM•WINTERIM•WINTERIM•WINTERIM

This year, Harpeth Hall made an addition to the curriculum with the introduction of a Winter Term. This "Winterim" gave each student the opportunity to explore her own specific field of interest. The work programs were accomplished in a number of different ways. Two groups of students, one interested in the French language and the other in English culture, chose to visit the respective countries. By participating in these trips, the girls were exposed to different lifestyles—an experience that should aid in their understanding of another people. These students also found that communication in a foreign language is possible!

While these girls were abroad, other students learned the value of independent study. Work was done in the areas of law, medicine, social work, student teaching, art, and in many other fields. The general opinion of the girls in independent study seemed to be that the experience was invaluable; they seemed to feel that this method of learning is as necessary for education as actual "book-learning."

Also during the Winterim, other students continued to come to the school; however, their schedules contained an exciting variety of choices. Classes were offered in almost any area, from cooking to parapsychology. Four hours of participation were necessary; this gave each student the opportunity to take more than one course. This program was also an exciting change in the usual routine, as well as a challenge, in many cases, for the students. The Winterim, as a whole, was a wonderful new experience for all; it is an addition to Harpeth Hall helping to make an exceptional curriculum.

CUM LAUDE SOCIETY

One of the newest additions to Harpeth Hall came on April 30, with the installation of the Harpeth Hall chapter of the Cum Laude Society—the secondary school equivalent of Phi Beta Kappa. In an impressive ceremony Miss McMurry received our charter, and the first eight Cum Laude members-in-course—the top ten percent of the Junior Class—were initiated. Also honored were the faculty members who had achieved membership in Phi Beta Kappa in college and distinguished patrons of the school; they were recognized as charter members of the Cum Laude chapter. The Cum Laude Society will replace our Honor Society that for years has recognized those who have shown outstanding scholastic and leadership ability at Harpeth Hall. Cum Laude means "with praise," and it is indeed with praise for Harpeth Hall that we receive this estimable addition to our school.

C. Miller, J. Austin, C. van Eys, S. Gibson, L. Farrar, S. Tanner, S. Berry, M. A. Harbison.

ALL CLUB PICNIC

When school begins in September, nine months seem like an eternity. But time passes quickly, and numerous activities manage to occur. Therefore, we have a day at the close of school to sum up the year's events; on All

Club Picnic day, girls are recognized for their contributions to Harpeth Hall's life and spirit. As the old year ends with this ceremony, the school again prepares for the beginning of a new year.

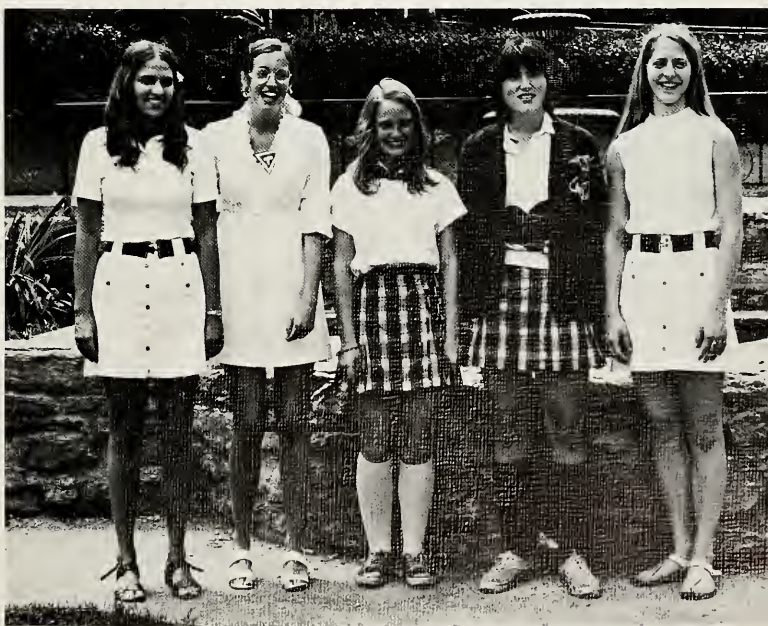

S. Thornton, E. Hobbs, L. Farrar, S. Moore.

CLASS SPIRIT AWARDS

Class spirit is a vital part of Harpeth Hall; girls who have this spirit encourage class interest in various projects and competitions. Annually, each class elects one member who they feel has a great deal of class spirit; this girl is given an award. This year the four winners of these awards are Susan Thornton, Ellen Hobbs, Lynn Farrar, and Sylvia Moore; the spirit that these girls gave to their classes combined to make Harpeth Hall a more exciting school.

CLUB SPIRIT AWARDS

The four major clubs at Harpeth Hall have been a subject of controversy in the past few years; the problem being dealt with concerns the purpose of and the need for the clubs. However, many girls still feel that these clubs are necessary for athletic spirit and competition. Five of these girls received Club Spirit Awards at the All Club Picnic: Susan Thornton, Jane Foreman, Libby Oldfield, Beth Davis, and Josephine Kelley. All of the students who maintain their club spirit help to show others the value of continuing the major club tradition at Harpeth Hall.

L. Oldfield, J. Kelley, B. Davis, S. Thornton, J. Foreman.

B. Abernathy, L. Parrish, S. Duvier.

NATIONAL MERIT AWARDS

This year Harpeth Hall had six girls who became National Merit Semi-finalists. This, indeed, was a tremendous honor for them and for Harpeth Hall. These girls were in the top one percent of high school seniors in the nation. Harpeth Hall was further complimented by the placement of three additional girls in the top two percent, who were recognized as National Merit Commendees.

MIDDLE SCHOOL HONOR DAY

The girls at Harpeth Hall know the loneliness of entering a new school alone, yet they also know the pride of ending the years there as a unified group. The Middle School Honor Day is a day when the eighth grade class discovers this pride, mixed with sadness, as the girls receive their certificates from the Middle School and prepare to enter the Upper School.

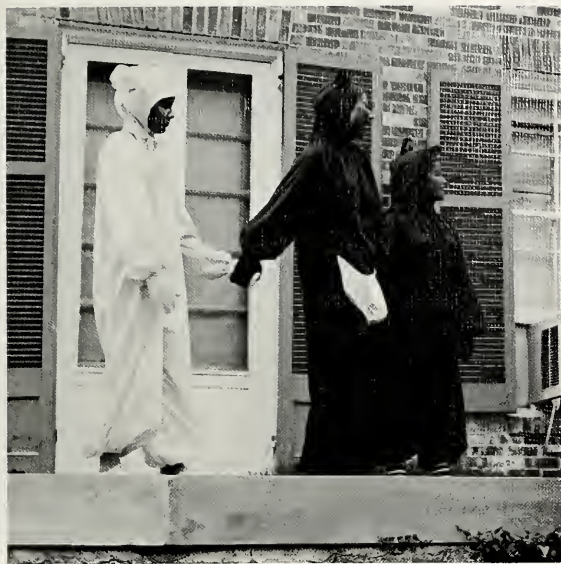

SENIOR BANQUET

Each year, the Senior class turns over its many school responsibilities to the former Juniors, and at the Step-Singing ceremony the Juniors and Seniors join together in ending a year of work. As another highlight of graduation weekend, the Seniors hold their annual Senior Banquet at which the class gives a final farewell.

SOPHOMORE PLAY

Traditionally, the Sophomore Class climaxes the Lady of the Hall ceremony with the presentation of the Sophomore Play. This year the class staged "Winnie the Pooh" for a receptive audience; both actors and bystanders thoroughly enjoyed the antics of the different characters. Pooh and his friends were a great contribution to the program, and those well-loved animals were portrayed in a fantastical manner.

LADY OF THE HALL

Traditionally the Lady of the Hall represents to her fellow students the attainment of highly valued ideals. But in times when many are questioning strong ideals, it is good that we can still perceive and recognize in one girl qualities that all respect and admire. During her four years here Susan Duvier has exhibited such qualities in academic and leadership positions; her exemplary work as President of the Student Council has made her truly worthy of this highest honor.

Not surprisingly, Susan has her own opinions about being Lady of the Hall. She feels that Harpeth Hall has given her not only academic excellence, but also self-confidence and the ability to meet all kinds of people as equals. We are all grateful for what Susan has given us in return; through her own enthusiasm and deep personal involvement, she has led Harpeth Hall to new areas of social commitment and community action.

CITIZENSHIP BRACELET

At Harpeth Hall we feel that students should be recognized for high achievements in all areas of school life. One of the highest honors that a student can receive is the Citizenship Bracelet, signifying active participation in the organizations that represent the school, and in the academic programs within the school. This year the Citizenship Bracelet goes to Bettye Abernathy for her leadership and enthusiasm in both LOGOS II and in the Class of 1973. In addition, Bettye earned membership in the Honor Society in her Junior year. We are proud to congratulate Bettye as the senior who has earned the highest number of citizenship points during her years at Harpeth Hall.

KATIE WRAY AWARD

Harpeth Hall is founded largely upon academic principles. Therefore, the school takes pride in honoring with the Katie Wray Award the Senior who attains the highest grade point average in her class through her four high school years. Now, the Katie Wray Award goes to Emily Schull for her outstanding achievements in the Class of 1973. Emily has consistently shown her academic ability; she has taken part in learning with eagerness, and she has shared her interest with other schoolmates. The recipient of the Katie Wray Award must exhibit the same qualities of academic excellence for which Katie Wray herself was known; we are glad that Emily, too, has so well fulfilled the scholastic ideals of Harpeth Hall.

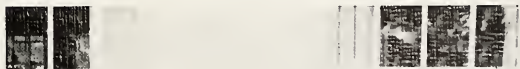

GRADUATION

We will respect and obey the school laws, and we will do our best to incite a like respect in those about us who are prone to annul them or set them at naught. We will strive unceasingly to quicken our mutual sense of duty. Thus, in all these ways, we will transmit this school, not less, but greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.

Graduation is a special time for girls who have completed the requirements of their high school years. The final ceremony is the culmination of hard work and four years of life; at this time the girls receive a diploma commencing their achievements. However, graduation is much more than a diploma; the paper symbolizes accomplishments, but the realization of the true significance of graduation may come to each student at a different time.

While the ceremony at Harpeth Hall formally congratulates each girl and recognizes special qualities in her, she may find a joy in knowing that she has received a firm education as she has experienced life on her own. And although during the hour of the ceremony the graduates are nervous and concerned with themselves, the program has real meaning because a sadness mixed with anticipation is within each one. When the Seniors comprehend the different lifestyles that they are about to encounter, the graduation ceremony becomes a starting point in life for the departing young women—they glimpse in the same moments the life that they are leaving and the life that they are approaching.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Unknown to many students, the alumnae of Harpeth Hall School make a great effort to keep in contact with the school and with each other. One well-known supporter of the school is Mrs. Jeanne Zerfoss, who has been the Secretary of the Board of Trustees for many years, and who is the retiring Director of the Alumnae Association. This energetic woman contributed a great deal to the Association through her attempts to contact numerous former students of Harpeth Hall. By her work 1500 alumnae were located; in addition, Mrs. Zerfoss is trying to establish a fund through dues that would enable the group to make a donation to the school. This, she feels, would give the Association a purpose for existence; with an established purpose Mrs. Zerfoss hopes to increase the interest held by the alumnae and to attract the interest of others. Therefore, as Mrs. Jeanne Zerfoss relinquishes her office, we see an Association that has grown and prospered under her expert leadership.

There are many, many friends and supporters of Harpeth Hall who do not make a daily appearance in halls or classrooms, but who nevertheless make their presence known in quiet and helpful ways. As Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Harpeth Hall, Dr. Daugh W. Smith is one friend who over the years has taken a vital role in the growth and development of our school. Since his election to the Chairmanship of the Board of Trustees in December of 1956, his ways of contributing to Harpeth Hall have been many; perhaps the most outstanding evidences of his interest in Harpeth Hall are the lovely landscaping of our campus and the now well-established Middle School that bears his name. Also, Dr. Smith has been invaluable in stimulating community interest in and support of Harpeth Hall; we gratefully acknowledge his tremendous behind-the-scenes donation of time and effort to our school.

Maybe you're doing it wrong.

Are the only insurance agents you've ever talked to the ones who called on you? You know, insurance underwriters are professional people. When you need legal advice you don't wait for a good lawyer to call on you, do you? So why wait for whoever comes along to plan your security?

Better to put your faith in a life insurance company that puts its faith in competency above salesmanship. And call one of its agents.

We have felt the warmth of love
And this cannot be taken from us
For it is a part of us.
